Championship, Game 14

State Farm Center, Champaign

Winning Coach – Patrick Weathers, Nashville

Credit to Monticello, Coach Roy, they have a great program. I feel like we stole one there.

I can't say enough about how resilient this bunch of guys are, never giving up. We didn't have great vibes, especially down the stretch, but we got enough stops and enough rebounds, partially blocked shot at the end there to get it done. Didn't really expect to be playing from behind the entire time, either, or what felt like the entire time. The old cliché, defense wins championships. It's not always pretty but these guys found a way to get it done.

Monticello had a great game plan, (it's) a very tough team to prepare for. They share the ball so well and they run a great motion offense. The ball never sticks and they're constantly moving, constantly curl-cutting, flaring, using screens really well to the point they can control possessions offensively.

We've been here before, no need to panic, keep grinding and value each possession. We had some uncharacteristic turnovers, I think we were pressing a little bit, kind of forcing the issue at times. But the defense bailed us out and got enough stops to close the gap and eventually take the lead.

Losing Coach – Kevin Roy, Monticello

These guys are first class all the way – on the court, off the court, everything that they do, they are a success. Today was just a game, but most importantly, these guys are going to go on ... and they are going to make a difference in the world because that's the type of people they are. I'm incredibly proud of them.

I told them all year long, it's not any one person, it's an entire team that makes up this unit. One person didn't carry us, it was all of them, playing their role and playing within their abilities and that's what led to their success. Great teamwork.

(Final play) We knew they were going to come out and pressure and we knew the rim would be open. Our rule is if you have a layup take it. We made great passes and made great reads and executed just like we wanted to – great team basketball. Sometimes the ball bounces your way, sometimes it doesn't. Our guys did a great job defensively.

Nashville is a great team and they made plays when they needed to to be able to pull that out, so our hats are off to them.
